1. Introduction

Your responses to this "Improving Digital Inclusion and Broadband Infrastructure in Native Communities" needs assessment survey will help ensure a greater awareness of the role and needs of tribal libraries. Survey results will inform a national report that will be submitted to federal agencies, funders, tribal leaders, and other stakeholders who can help improve digital inclusion in Native communities.

All participating libraries will be credited in the final report. The survey will close at 5 PM CT on Monday, November 15, 2021.

The survey is funded by the Institute of Museum and Library Services and the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation. It is conducted by the Association of Tribal Archives, Libraries, and Museums in partnership with The Community Informatics Lab at Simmons University and the Native Nations Institute at the University of Arizona.

2. Instructions

This survey should be completed by the library director or other employee who is most familiar with computer and technology use in the library. Only one survey per library should be completed.

The survey has 15 sections:

- 1. Introduction
- 2. Instructions
- 3. Tribal Library Information
- 4. Community Connectivity
- 5. Funding
- 6. E-Rate Funding
- 7. Public Computers and Internet Access
- 8. Patron Technology Services
- 9. Patron Technology Training
- 10. Technical Support and Website
- 11. Bandwidth and Internet Service
- 12. Technology Needs
- 13. Tribal Libraries Transform Lives
- 14. Additional Input
- 15. Contact Information

All responses are confidential and all questions are optional, although you are asked to be as thorough as possible.

To some extent, questions parallel a 2014 Digital Inclusion Study that has been instrumental in shaping policy, funding, and services for tribal libraries. For more information about the report and its recommended Action Items, read the Digital Inclusion in Native Communities: The Role of Tribal Libraries report.

The survey should take between 15 and 30 minutes to complete. As long as you are working from the same computer, you may leave the survey and come back to it as needed. After submitting the survey, you will be taken to the Digital Inclusion website where you may register for the Tuesday, October 19 Digital Inclusion Summit and learn more about the work of the council.
